Travis' trip... the facts

Travis has an upcoming business trip that includes a connecting flight in Orlando. A new hire coworker, Beth, is going with him to shadow on this trip. Beth is boarding from a different airport than Travis. They plan to meet at a connecting airport and travel together for the last leg of the flight. Travis has a family member, not in his household, taking him to and from the airport.

Travis' trip... the problem

Travis just found out that his flight is delayed by three hours. He is confident that he can make his connection flight, but it will be close! But this change in timing does leave him with an added “to do” list.

- Contact his World Travel agent consultant to confirm that he can make the connection flight.
- Let his ride know that the flight time has shifted.
- Let his co-worker, Beth, know about the delay.
